PREFACE

1277648

Wetzel County, Virginia, taken from Tyler in 1846, was one of the counties which supported the Union during the war between the states. In 1863, it became part of the new state of West Virginia. The large majority of the settlers were from Pennsylvania and the piedmont areas of Virginia where slaves were not common, so that their interests lay with the North.

Many of these families, or their representatives, have moved further west, where their descendants now live. It is hoped that this census will provide the missing link between the east and the west for many researchers.

The editor will be happy to hear of any errors of reading or interpretation in this work, or any information concerning Wetzel families for her files.
